

By entering for the examination(s) you are agreeing to be bound by the examination regulations and these terms and conditions. The examination regulations are available on the ACCA website and in the post-registration information issued to you when you joined ACCA. They are also reproduced on your Examination Attendance Docket. You should familiarise yourself with the regulations prior to the examination session.

An email acknowledgement will be sent to you on successful completion of your exam entry. Please read this carefully and ensure that the details represent the entry that you wish to make for this session.

Examination compensation policy

If an examination paper(s) attempt is suspended, cancelled or otherwise nullified by the examining board (at any stage, whether before or after the examination sitting itself) ACCA will waive the fee (or part thereof) for the next attempt at the paper(s) unless such suspension, cancellation or otherwise is caused by an epidemic, pandemic or any other event against which ACCA is unable to obtain insurance on reasonable commercial terms.

Due to the nature and complexity of operating professional examinations, ACCA reserves the right not to reschedule any examination or offer any compensation other than as specified above.

Exam Centres

The address of the venue you have been allocated to will be shown on your Examination Attendance Docket, which will be available in the month prior to the examination session. Where entries exceed the capacity at any particular centre it may occasionally be necessary for ACCA to transfer candidates to another centre. In such instances ACCA reserve the right to transfer candidates to the nearest alternative centre. Confirmation of the centre allocated to you will be shown on your Examination Attendance Docket.

If you have selected a Special Centre from the list (please see Exam Centre List) you will be required to pay any invigilation and centre costs involved. Such fees are normally paid direct to the examination supervisor in advance of the examination date. These fees are payable in addition to the examination fees payable to ACCA. You remain liable for these costs if you subsequently absent yourself from an exam.

Payment, cancellation and refunds

By ordering an ACCA exam, you are confirming your agreement to be bound by these Terms and Conditions.

Payment Terms

- 1.1. Payments for any exam entry must be received in full for the whole price of the exam(s) that you wish to sit before your order is accepted by ACCA.
- 1.2. The price payable is as set out on our Website at the time of paying for the exam, as the same may be amended from time to time.
- 1.3. If your employer/tuition provider or any third party acting on your behalf, books, registers or pays for an exam through their ACCA Exchange account please be aware that you are ultimately responsible for the payment of the entry or registration fee, irrespective of any agreement that you may have made directly with them.

2. Confirmation of your exam entry

- 2.1. Once we receive your payment we will confirm our acceptance of your exam entry by sending an email to the email address you provide. If you do not receive this email please contact us immediately via email address: students@accaglobal.com

3. Your Right to Cancel

Subject to clause 3.2, you may cancel your order at any time before the standard exam entry closing date for each examination session. You will receive a full refund by using the ACCA self-serving online tools of your MyACCA account. Details of the exam entry closing dates are published annually and can be found on:

<http://www.accaglobal.com/gb/en/student/getting-started/important-dates.html>

- 3.1. After the standard exam entry closing date for each examination session, you must contact students@accaglobal.com direct if you wish to cancel an exam entry, as you will not be able to process your cancellation using the ACCA self-serving online tools of your MyACCA account. You will be entitled to cancel the exam entry and receive a full refund only if a period of fourteen (14) calendar days' ("Cancellation Period") has not lapsed from the date of payment for your exam entry. This means that you will only receive a full refund within the Cancellation Period, which is calculated from the first day after the date of your payment to ACCA for the exam entry.
- 3.2. All refunds under clause 3.1 or clause 3.2 will be made using the same method of payment as you used to pay for the order and will be paid within fourteen (14) calendar days ("Refund Period") of you informing ACCA of the cancellation.
- 3.3. Your right to cancel and obtain a refund within the Cancellation Period referred to in clause 3.2 above will be lost if the date of the exams falls during that period. This means that you will have fewer than fourteen (14) calendar days to cancel the order in circumstances in which you make your order within fourteen days of the exam date.
- 3.4. In the event that you wish to cancel any exam entry, in accordance with clauses 3.1 or 3.2 above, consideration must be given to the ACCA examination progression rules, details of which can be accessed via: <http://www.accaglobal.com/uk/en/student/exam-entry-and-administration/enter-an-exam/exam-progression-rules.html> If the cancellation of an exam entry contravenes the progression rules, your entire exam entry that is applicable to the rules will be subject to cancellation and a full refund provided within the Refund Period stipulated in clause 3.3.
- 3.5. If ACCA cancels the exam, our liability shall be limited to a full refund of any exam you have paid for only. We will not refund any travel or accommodation costs associated with the cancellation of an examination.
- 3.6. ACCA reserves the right to cancel or reschedule exams without prior notice and to amend or alter published exams, fees and exam venues.
- 3.7. In the event that you cancel any exam entry which is not in compliance with the cancellation policies herein, ACCA is entitled to take any and all actions, including but not limited to reinstatement of your examinations, not refunding the examination fees and (if refunded) re-charging the examination fees to your MyACCA account. By agreeing with the Exam Entry Terms and Conditions, you have expressly acknowledged and confirmed that you agree that ACCA can take such actions.
